

We get stupid WITH THE INTERNET?

Is the internet making us stupid?

Pros

Yes, the internet is making us slower at thinking and doing actions on our own
"Hey Alexa, turn off the lights."

"Hey Alexa, call my mom."

"Hey Alexa, turn on my favorite song."

We mostly now live off of robots doing chores for us.

Cons

No, the internet is giving us access to answers we could never get before without the internet.

"Hey Alexa, what is 32 x 54?"

"Hey Alexa, how can I make a pumpkin pie

Even if we do mostly live off of AI and technology now, we still get answer we were trying to figure out before.

The internet has made our generations go -7 the amount of IQ every generation that has the internet with it.

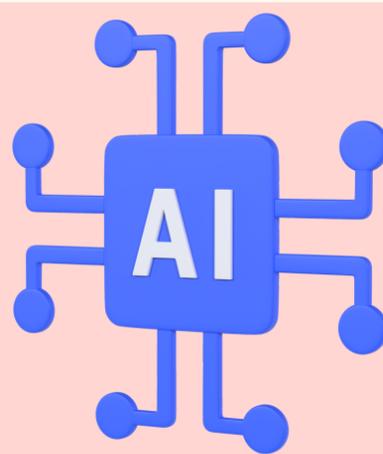

Studies have shown that we keep losing our intelligence every generation we go through

IQ tests have been proven that they are only 66% right most of the time. They can even be wrong fully some times.

Even if the IQ tests say so, they still have a 34% chance of being inaccurate with us.

We are only starting to use our internet for simple tasks we could of done in less than a second almost everyday of our lives now.

That doesn't mean that it's bad, it means we are just evolving to a new way of living with the internet that is in our hands. There is so much we can do with the internet we are bound to make some parts of our lives easier with it.

Concluding Argument

In conclusion, I believe that they both are right. You can use the internet for just entertainment and for fun, or you can use it for answering questions for for the good.
