

video games and violence

do violent video games contribute to youth violence

Pros

Cons

violent video games cause violence

1. there was a study that shows that just 20 mins of playing video games can cause you to become less aroused
2. by age 18 Americans will have seen 16,000 murder and 200,000 acts of violence
3. studies have shown reduced emotional reaction to violence simple statistics do not support the claim that violent video games cause mass shooting

1. a report by the us secret service showed that out of 41 school shooters only 12% had an interest in violent video games
2. Say video game players cause violence is like saying if they wear socks that makes them a criminal
3. Most of the countries that play video games the most have the lowest violence the us military uses video games to teach soldiers how to kill

1. the us marine corp licensed doom in 1996 to create doom in order to teach soldiers how to kill and kids are also playing it
2. when the military does it they can use it for soldiers but kids also play these games
3. modern nation are teaching there kids about warfare studies between real life and games

1. many studies failed to show it does make kids violent
2. studies show people know video games from real life
3. many people gaming for life the us military uses video games to teach soldier growing up American kids see 200,000 acts of violence and 16,000 murders video games dont cause violence there is better surveys and statistics that show that

MLA Citation

ProCon.org, "Video Games." ProCon.org. 8 June 2021, videogames.procon.org