

Dumb Internet?

Is the internet making us stupid?

Pros

Cons

The speed and ubiquity of Internet is different from previous breakthrough technologies and is reprogramming are Brian's for the worst.

.The internet has reduced our ability to focus

.People that read off a printed paper are consuming a lot more information than people reading off the internet

Almost every single technology has had doubts that have been largely unfounded.

.Elderly people use the internet to complete task that they need help with the internet also allows kids with disabilities to meet kids with similar disabilities and talk about it

IQ scores have been Falling for decades since the rise of technology including internet.

.Their has been a drop of 7 IQ due to the envirmetal changes like internet.

.The internet makes us think we can multitask but we can't which results in a IQ

The internet allows a diverse populations of people to have more equal access to information and community.

.The internet allows people to get information in a very small amount of time.

.Social media allows many kids with disabilities to communicate with other people.

The Internet is making us to lazy to perform simple task.

.Instead of checking to see who is at the front door we check on our phones.

.Of looking up information in a book we type a few letters on our phone and get information.

Changing the way our brains function is not necessarily bad.

.If we have the resources to learn why take the long route and look it up in a book

.sometimes people can misuse the internet but you can control that and not misuse it.

.You lose more IQ by being distracted by other tabs and such than smoking marijuana and not getting a nights rest.

.only 21 to 42 million Americans have broadband access to internet

In my opinion I think the internet is making us smarter and is allowing us to learn a lot more a lot faster.
